Egerndacher Church - Egerndacher Moor - Egerndacher Church

The signposted circular route starts at the Egerndach church . From there you walk towards Gasthof Ott. Turn right here and the initially paved path leads you into the Egerndacher Moor . The moor circular path is intended to be an opportunity for young and old to feel nature again and get to know it better. Children's questions are also answered in an easy-to-understand manner and play stations invite them to explore. At various stations you will receive interesting information about the moor, but also about honey bees and the forest, for example. In quiet places you have the opportunity to relax and let nature work its magic on you. About halfway through the tour you will also pass the Tiroler Ache . Because it is level and has no significant inclines, the path is also ideal for older people or small children and is suitable for strollers. Please note that the path is not cleared or gritted in winter.
