Route: Kohlstadt (721 m) - Weisse Ache - Menkenboden - Wasserwandl (840 m) - Eschelmoos - Hinteralm (1140 m) - Eschelmoos - Wasserwandl - Menkenboden - Weisse Ache - Kohlstadt

Let's start at the Kohlstatt hiking car park, about five kilometers south-west of Bergen. You can park here. From here, the easy cul-de-sac always follows the wide road parallel to the Weißen Ache. The fine gravel road is initially very flat and nicely shaded, but gets a little steeper at the end. This short trip with the Bergradl is perfect when it is oppressively hot down at Lake Chiemsee in midsummer. There are still many hikers directly behind Kohlstatt, but soon mountain bikers and e-MTBers will have the wide forest road (almost) to themselves. After a few wide hairpin bends between high mountains, you reach the lonely pasture area on the Eschelmoos - and a few minutes later the Hinteralm. The rustic little hut is staffed from the beginning of June to the end of September. After a well-deserved rest and refreshment, we return to the starting point at the Kohlstatt hiking car park. On the way you can cool off your legs at the Wasserwandl - a beautiful waterfall along the way - or in the Schipfl Weiher at the Kohlstatt hiking car park.

Highlights: Wasserwandl, Hinteralm

Bike & Swim : swimming in the Schipfl Weiher at the Kohlstatt hiking car park
