The imposing mountain flanks are within reach on this tour and the nature reserve "Eastern Chiemgau Alps" with its many shady passages offers relaxed cycling even in midsummer. Overall, this tour requires a good level of fitness and ... you have to like the long climbs. With 110 km and about 1000 meters difference in altitude, we have another demanding tour ahead of us. However, there are no toxic climbs. The track rolls well. This is also thanks to the route, which at times leads to main roads. After all, at 110 km you want to make progress, enjoy the area and not wear yourself out in complex searches for the right way. There are many rest stops in the tourist locations worth seeing.
