

Staudach-Egerndach moor circular route | with stroller

HIKING TOUR

The little honeybee guides you through the stroller-friendly circular route with information stations through the moor. Let yourself be surprised!

Starting point Egerndach church

 distance:
4.4 kilometres

 maximum altitude:
541 meters

 altitude difference:
12 ascending

Location

 duration:
01:03 hours

 minimum altitude:
531 meters

 altitude difference:
12 descending

On the Staudach moor circular route, you go directly into the Egerndach bog. Here you get to know the nature in the moor and understand how animals and plants coexist harmoniously and how everything in our nature is somehow connected. At a total of eight information stations, these topics are explained to you playfully and clearly. In addition to the stations presenting the moor, its plants, and animal inhabitants, the lovingly designed witch's house halfway along the route is certainly a highlight for the little ones.

Good for you to know:

- Don't forget mosquito spray in early summer.
- Even though the walking time is short, always bring something to drink.
- The moor can also be a bit wet in summer. Please consider this when choosing footwear.

Arrival by car

From the A8 coming from Munich or Salzburg: Exit at the Grabenstätt motorway exit towards Reit im Winkl. At the Staudach roundabout, cross the Achen bridge towards Bergen/Siegsdorf. Go through Staudach and after about 2 km turn left into Wangerstraße. After the Gasthof Ott turn right. Then the first left and you will be in front of the church, the starting point of the hike.

Parking at the destination

Parking spaces are located directly at the church.
